All products assigned to this sector are:

Fabrics for curtains

Although these fabrics are traditional textile fabrics, these are very used in the sector for furniture, curtains, decoration and footwear by their characteristics of resistance, as these elements are subject to a constant use.

The tapes used in Venetian blinds, are tapes in ladder form produced in polyester of high tenacity and torsion, later thermofixed in order to give the necessary resistance to the product for its function.

Our electronic crochet machine allows the regulation of the width of the tape and also the regularity of the weft in order to be applied for different models of blinds.

The tapes knitted on our crochet machines allow to play with the forms and to be used in complements for curtains.

These fabrics are used for decoration purposes and also as elements with resistance and security capacity.
